

Clause 2: Normative references

‘Normative references’ simply means any other documents which are referenced within the management system standard.

Information (concepts, principles and definitions) should be understood and applied as defined or explained in ISO 9000.

It is possible that such information may have different meaning or interpretation in some industries, regulatory or business context.

Clause 3: Terms and definitions

