

9.1.2. Customer Satisfaction

The organization is required to monitor customers' perceptions of the degree to which their needs and expectation have been fulfilled.

✓ Are there any trends?

✓ Are customer needs and expectations changing?

- ✓ Using customer satisfaction surveys
 - ✓ Face-to-face evaluations (“How was your stay”?)
 - ✓ Telephone calls or visits made periodically or after delivery of products and services
 - ✓ Internal enquiries among the organization’s personnel who are in contact with customers
 - ✓ Monitoring accounts receivable, warranty claims, etc.
 - ✓ Customer complaints analysis
-

Auditing

- ✓ What is the desired output of this process? What information is actually available on customer perceptions? How is this information used by management to drive improvements to the product, processes and the QMS?
 - ✓ How is the data collected to feed the process?
 - ✓ How reliable is the information? (verify the criteria the organization has used for any sampling of its customers)
 - ✓ How is the data analyzed?
- 