

Quality Management (QM)

Quality management is the process for ensuring that all project activities necessary to design, plan and implement a project are effective and efficient with respect to the purpose of the objective and its performance.

Quality management is not an event – it is a process– a repetitive cycle of measuring quality and updating processes until the desired quality is achieved.

Quality management is, thus, the totality of functions involved in the determination and achievement of quality, including quality assurance and quality control.